THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

in 1951 the scheduled production of gasoline in East Germany was 639,493 metric tons, the actual production was 692,133 tons, 25X1 the plan fulfillment was 108 percent; that in 1952 the scheduled production was 750,612 tons, the actual production was 840,447 tons, and the plan fulfillment was 112 percent; and that the scheduled production for 1953 was 813,913 tons.

With respect to Diesel oil, [ ] in 1951, the scheduled production 25X1 was 435,749 and the actual production 486,473 metric tons; that in 1952 the scheduled production was 549,000 and the actual production 564,416 tons; that the scheduled production for 1953 was 659,762 tons of Diesel oil; and that percent figures were 111 percent and 102 percent for 1951 and 1952 respectively.

Comment: The gasoline and Diesel oil production plan figures indicated in the present report are higher than those given in previous reports. The following tabulation shows the differences: 25X1

	Plan Figures Previously Reported			Plan Figures According to Present Information
	1951	1952	1953	1951	1952	1953
Gasoline	636,600	710,000	802,000	639,493	750,612	819,912
Diesel Oil	431,600	500,000	525,000	435,749	549,000	659,762

It is, therefore, believed that gasoline and Diesel oil production plan figures have been increased in East Germany.
